...SONS COUNTING THE HOURS UNTIL MARCH THE FOURTH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Both ...
...and Mrs. Wilson are count ...
...the hours which must elapse ...
...before they can retire to private life. ...
...The president realized fully when ...
...he took office that the several months ...
...must elapse before his suc ...
...cessor took office must be more or ...
...less of a period of marking time.

...would have been more than ...
...to have given way to the new ...
...administration at once, if such a ...
...were possible.

...President's health is said to be ...
...improving daily.

...the beginning of his convales ...
...he has followed a regime of ...
...work out to the last detail ...
...of his physicians.

...in this regimen are a cer ...
...tain number of hours each day which ...
...devoted to public business.

...During a short period that im ...
...mediately followed his breakdown ...
...of two short periods of re ...
...covery there has never been a time ...
...when matters of the first importance ...
...were not had his personal attention.

...And what is more, in spite of vic ...
...issitudes to the contrary, there ...
...has been a time since the begin ...
...ning of his convalescence that the ...
...president has not been able to bring ...
...a war on public matters of the first ...
...importance, an intellect as keen as at ...
...any time during his tenure of office.

...One of the things which he has not ...
...been permitted to do is to receive vis ...
...itors and to discuss public questions ...
...personally with them.

...Inauguration Plans ...
...The president and Mrs. Wilson will ...
...take possession of their new home ...
...March 3, the day before Senator Har ...

...He will ride to the capitol with ...
...Senator Harding and after the simple ...
...inaugural ceremonies will ride with ...
...the new president to the White House ...
...where he and Mrs. Wilson will be the ...
...honored guests of President and ...
...Mrs. Harding.

...The career of Woodrow Wilson as ...
...a public servant, covering a period ...
...of ten years, two as governor of New ...

...United States, will be at an end.

...He will be a few months over 64 ...

DRAFT DESERTER TURNS UP IN GERMANY AMERICAN SOLDIERS TRY TO CATCH BERGDOLL

DRAFT DODGER MAKING ATTEMPT TO BECOME A GERMAN CITIZEN NOW

SIX IN JAIL FOR ATTEMPT CAPTURE AMERICAN DESERTER

(International News Service.)
BERDACH, Baden, Jan. 28.—In a sensational interview today Grover Cleveland Bergdall declared arrangements were made to buy his freedom for $100,000 after he was sentenced to five years' imprisonment by an American court martial for desertion from the United States army.

He said he escaped from his home in Philadelphia while the guards were drunk on whiskey. In an automobile he drove to Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis and to Chicago. He went to Milwaukee and St. Paul, crossed the Canadian border at St. Vincent, Minn., and at Winnipeg obtained a passport to travel in England. He sailed from Quebec for Europe aboard the Victorian, July 9, going from London to Germany via Holland.

Six Arrested (United Press.)
BERLIN, Jan. 28.—Six Americans are in jail at Eberbach, following their spectacular attempt to capture Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, rich Philadelphia draft dodger, now an applicant for German citizenship. The Americans under arrest include one soldier and five civilians. Bergdoll escaped after the Americans shot at him.

Villagers Sympathize With Bergdoll (United Press.)
BERLIN, Jan. 28.—An attempt was recently made at Eberbach to kidnap Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, and a companion named Stetcher, by five men in an automobile some of whom were American military intelligence officers and one an American sergeant, according to the Eberbacher Zeitung.

Bergdoll was being driven to the Eberbach railway station to meet wedding guests when the automobile was suddenly surrounded and its occupants ordered to surrender. The party broke up, but one of the Americans fired, according to the report, hitting one man in the hand. Police appeared and the men fled, but two were arrested.

Before the appearance of the police a number of villagers, sympathizers with Bergdoll, surrounded the five men with threats and seized three of them, who attempted to pursue Bergdoll's automobile.

Upon the approach of the police the villagers dispersed, the five men are believed to have come from Speyer, in the occupied zone. The man wounded was a relative of the bride to be. Eberbach is a town of 6,444 inhabitants and is a short distance from Heidelberg.

Forry is 35 years old. He was arrested a few hours after the arrival of a new baby in his home.

PERSONAL ADVISOR TO FORMER KAISER DEAD

(The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Jan. 28.—Professor Theodore Scheldmann, former personal advisor to former Emperor William, died at Berlin Wednesday.

"DUMMY POLICEMEN" ARE A NUISANCE

"Dummy Policemen"—and in this instance we refer to the wooden ones which stand day and night on the principal intersections of downtown streets of Daytona—are a nuisance, and dangerous to traffic, and should either be removed, or carry a light at night.

The past week there have been no less than three accidents, due to running into these wooden barriers which arise before the unacquainted motorist like a forry ambushade in Ireland.

The "dummy" serves its purposes, perhaps, in the day time, in making motorists turn a right angle corner at the intersections. "But at night they are dangerous, serve no purpose and are the cause of more accidents than would be caused by their removal."

Daytona is the only city in the state of Florida maintaining "dummy policemen" unlighted at night. A few lanterns would be an inexpensive purchase, and the work of lighting them each night would not be wearisome to one of the force, as he could be carried the several blocks necessary on the police motorcycle.

Maintaining "dummy policemen" without lights saviors of small town stuff, which Daytona otherwise passed years ago.

Let's have the barriers right in act a ...

AGREEMENT MUST BE REACHED TODAY OR RUPTURE THREATENED

(United Press.)
PARIS, Jan. 28.—Agreement on German reparations must be reached today or allied negotiations will be broken off, Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, threatened today. Lloyd George was unmoved by the plea of French Premier Briand that alteration of the French demands for an immediate fixation of German indemnities would cause a collapse of his cabinet. The Belgian representative, Jasper, proposed a compromise which was to be considered by the supreme council this afternoon. Jasper suggested that Germany pay three billion gold marks, increasing the amount as she became able to pay.

Lloyd George Makes Threat (United Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Premier Lloyd George has tendered an ultimatum to the French that he will withdraw from the interallied conference and return to London unless the French change their views on German indemnity before tomorrow. It is learned authoritatively this afternoon. The French demand fifty billion indemnity.

PROGRESS REPORTED (The Associated Press.)

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Progress toward reaching a solution of the German reparations problem was reported today by the expert committee on the subject appointed yesterday by the supreme council. The basis of the discussion was the Belgian proposal that Germany be compelled to make an annual repayment of six billion gold marks in the maximum and three billion in the minimum. The plan would end the number of annual payments but would leave this to be determined later. The supreme council session is called for late today, when it is hoped the expert committee will be able to present a complete report.

CHURCH MOVIES

Conservative folks shake their heads when they hear of the adoption of the movie in various churches. In some churches the movie is used as an aid to the Sunday sermon. In others it is employed in Sunday school work.

In the churches it is realized that people will go to movies—often at the expense of church attendance—and that, therefore, the church will can make use of films for its own good ends.

But after all, there is nothing new in the use of pictures for religious instruction. Jesus spoke in parables—story pictures of the lessons he desired to convey. The New Testament is a series of such stories appealing as much to the imaginations of modern men as they did to the primitive folks of Jesus' time.

Sculpture and painting were the hand-maidens of the church from earliest times. In fact, the old masters scarcely employed their art for any purpose other than to exalt the faith.

In accepting the movie, churches are merely adopting the newest form of pictorial art to an age-old purpose. And approval of movies by churches should make for better and cleaner pictures.

HATS OFF TO HER

Somebody asked Miss Alice Robertson, new congresswoman from Oklahoma, whether she is going to have anything to do with running the restaurant in the House of Representatives, she being a cafeteria owner in private life.

And she answered, "My constituents didn't send me to Washington to cook. I can cook and run the restaurant, but my folks desire me to represent them in other ways. I am not intending to do anything spectacular and unseemly."

You speak good sense, Miss Robertson. And, in importing the quality of good sense to Washington you are performing a national service.

Your remarks should point a lesson to the numerous variety of male lawmakers who think the performance of "stunts" is the principal function of legislative service. The hoppers of every state legislature are full of their freak bills, never intended to be passed. But, having attained a brief hour of publicity, they have served their only purpose.

Then again, Miss Robertson, your words will set right a lot of men folks who have been expecting bizarre and foolish things to come from women in office. For the benefit of all such you have demonstrated there is an equality of common sense as real as the new equality of civil rights.

When a light burns late in a neighbor's basement it reminds one of that poem, "Oft in the still night."

Princess of Syria To Speak at Baptist Church on Sunday

Like a gentle cooling breeze, wafted from mystic romance lands of the old world comes the announcement of the presence in Daytona of a real princess of the blood—Princess Rahme Halder, descendant of the ancient Syrian house of Ananias (princesses). She comes unhindered in all her Oriental beauty, stately grace and wearing her royal robes of her native land.

Princess Rahme will make several public appearances while here. Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Baptist church she will deliver her most noted lecture, "Under Syrian Stars," telling in her own charming original way of the manner, customs of her native home, the Holy Land.

Monday night at 8 o'clock at the same church the princess will present her own drama of the Biblical story of "Naaman, the Leper." It tells how the early Syrian people were won from the worship of Baal to the worship of the God of Israel and the part played by the Hebrew maid in bringing this about. This is one of the greatest dramatic possibilities and has been successfully presented on the leading platforms in this country.

The royal visitor was born at Baalbek, 40 miles from the historic city of Damascus, comes of a long line of princesses. She represents the pure Semitic race and has all the warmth of soul and poetry of her people, upon which has been superimposed the education afforded by the American col-

But while Princess Rahme has enjoyed the higher education for women in America, she retains intensely Oriental in the mystic splendor of her dark eyes lies the history of her beloved country and as pictures the story of her early life in Palestine, it makes one feel as though transferred into the Holy Land.

Princess Halder will wear her royal robes of Damascus blue satin, heavily embroidered in pure gold and jewels, worked by native girls after the style of her noble ancestors. She will be assisted by her companion, Miss Lucile Burress who will interpret the quaint native music.

Princess Rahme will also make two

William Farnum in Two Parts in Movie Be Shown Saturday

In the great moving picture, depicting Dickens' famous "A Tale of Two Cities," which will be shown at the Auditorium Saturday evening, January 29, William Farnum, the versatile actor, will take two parts, those of Sidney Carton and Charles Darnay.

In speaking of this feat Mr. Farnum said:

"It's the hardest characterization I have undertaken yet," said Mr. Farnum. "I am used to playing a character by throwing myself into his mood; but in playing two parts, I have to be constantly changing mood, always ready to throw myself into either of the roles. And, believe me, it is no easy task."

Mr. Farnum set to work by accurately characterizing each man, and figuring what gestures and mannerisms each of them would have. These are called "tricks" by actors. That is what Mr. Farnum taught himself—the "tricks" of each character, the little bits of action which would serve as distinctive characterizers.

After he had these fixed well in his mind, it was an easier task for the big actor to go ahead with the portrayals of the parts. He had his guideposts, as it were, to help him along the way. But even then the constant change from man to man was harassing.

"The two men are so entirely dissimilar, too," Mr. Farnum said. "Carton is a happy-go-lucky, drunken, penniless boy, and Darnay the very soul of aristocracy, though he refused to be an aristocrat. They were as different as sun and moon; they had one feature in common—the face. Even their figures were different, and no comparison could be made in the way they dressed."

"That was only one of the difficult points in playing these roles."

PRICES GREATLY REDUCED

THROUGHOUT THE NORTH

O. S. Lang, the well known Orlando architect, with his wife and his brother, Dr. C. L. Lang and wife, of Cato, N. Y., drove over from the lake city this morning and were dinner guests at the Daytona Beach hotel. Mr. Lang says there is a great deal of construction work going on in Orlando, and that while real estate prices there seemed high to some, they are still soaring.

Dr. Lang says there is a great deal of sickness in the North and that he had received word that there had been 14 deaths within eight days in one small New York town of less than 1,000 population. He says there is an epidemic of measles and many cases of pneumonia.

He says that business conditions in New York are becoming rapidly adjusted. He has a son in the mercantile business who writes that his prices have been reduced on an average of 100 per cent within the past six months and that they were selling many things at less than cost. He says, however, that business is much encouraged and believe the worst is over and that in a few months most enterprises will be going along on a normal basis.

Dr. Lang, who is visiting his brother in Orlando, came over today to get a good look at the wonderful beach, and he says he is not in the least disappointed. He has seen all the north-eastern beaches, but without reservation declares this is the finest he ever saw.

Test Case May Be Made in Courts on Building Permits

J. M. McBain appeared before Mayor R. E. Niven this morning charged with "constructing a portion of a building on the west side of Live Oak street without any permit having been obtained therefor, and contrary to and in violation of any building permit issued or authorized." The complaint was made by Councilman Frank Bradley.

Mr. McBain presented his permit, which provided that "this building shall be placed the same distance back from the street as the building situated on south side on adjoining lot; in this connection, reference is had to the main body of the building and not to the porch. If porch is placed on building which this permit covers, it shall conform in width to porch on adjoining building on south above referred to."

Councilman Bradley made a statement in which he said the defendant, who represented Mrs. Nellie Robbins the owner of the building, had started to build directly contrary to the provisions of his permit and that if he was allowed to proceed he would damage the adjoining property materially. He insisted that his action was neither legal or neighborly and that it is time the city found out whether its ordinance can be wantonly ignored and violated without redress. He called attention to the fact that the permit particularly and specifically stated just how the proposed new building should be located with reference to the building that had already been constructed on the adjoining properties. He thought this was a very important question and that it should be adjusted finally so that the city and the property owners may know what their rights are in the future.

Clerk R. L. Selden, who issued the permit, declared there had been a direct violation of the permit and the ordinance under which it was granted. He maintained that as the defendant was putting up the building where the permit plainly provided it should not be built, the plaintiff was really proceeding without any permit at all, which is in direct violation of the city ordinance.

C. A. Randall, cashier of the East Coast State bank, and F. M. Williams of the Florida Realty company, who are financially interested in the property adjoining the Robbins lot, were present to assist in the prosecution. Mr. Randall said if the defendant was allowed to proceed their property would be damaged thereby at least from $300 to $1,000. He had offered to pay Mrs. Robbins whatever it had cost her so far if she would change her operations to conform to the permit, but that she and Mr. McBain had both declined his offer.

Mr. McBain in his own defense said he did not think his neighbors should have the privilege of dictating where property owners should build on their own ground. He also insisted that the motion to grant the permit of Mrs. Robbins to build was passed without restrictions.

Both Mayor Niven and Clerk Selden declared Mrs. Robbins had agreed with them that she would conform to the provisions of the permit.

In deciding the matter Mayor Niven said that he had endeavored while he has been acting in an official capacity to observe the "golden rule," in making decisions wherever possible, as he did not desire to deal unjustly with any man or to bring unnecessarily any hardship to any person. He thought, however, the defendant had not treated his neighbors as he would like to be treated under the same conditions and that he was satisfied the terms of the permit had been ignored. He therefore imposed a fine of $5 and costs, but would remit the fine in case the defendant decided to change his operations and proceed to build according to the permit. In case he does not, it is understood the question will go to the highest courts of the state as a test case for final adjudication, which, of course, would mean long and expensive litigation.

CHOIR OF NEGRO GIRLS TO SING AT FORUM ON SUNDAY
 There will be a specially attractive feature of the Open Forum meeting at the Auditorium next Sunday afternoon, January 30.

Preceding the address of Dr. Isaac T. Headland on the "Problems of the Pacific," there will be given a jubilee concert by the choir of the Daytona Industrial School. The concert will begin promptly at 2:45 o'clock and it is hoped every seat will be occupied. A refined and interesting program is promised.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith and the Misses Sarah and Hazel Smith of Bella Vernon, Ind., reached the Beach yesterday and have found acceptable quarters at 214 Oak Ridge boulevard.

PENINSULA LOCALS

E. H. Shoemaker of Chicago is registered at a local hotel.

Mrs. Carrie Richmond of Lexington, Ky., is here and is looking for a desirable apartment.

Mrs. Minerva E. Griggs of Daytona Beach has sold to Sarah B. Wynkoop of Continental, Ohio, the very desirable cottage at 219 Palmetto avenue.

Mrs. Julia Leaf and Mrs. Kate Jones of Oconomowoc, Wis., are among recent arrivals and have obtained a pleasant apartment at the corner of Coates and Harvey streets.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE

SHOWING FINE IMPROVEMENT

W. H. Wood of Providence, R. I., who, with Mrs. Wood, is occupying an apartment in the Manor building on the ocean front, says he has received letters from prominent business associates at home stating that business is looking much better in the North. They write that most of the cotton mills, and there are a good many in and about Providence, were now running almost at full capacity and that the woolen mills are running part of the time, but not yet with all their former employees and, of course, the wages have been more or less reduced.

Mr. Wood is confident that the readjustment that was sure to come will soon be accomplished and that it will not be long until the whole country will be in a healthy business condition.

Royal Dadmun Is Head of List of Noted Baritones

Royal Dadmun, who appears in the regular assembly course at the Auditorium this evening, is ranked by critics as one of the greatest concert and oratorio baritones of today.

When he recently appeared in New York City, the Tribune said:

"Royal Dadmun, a baritone well known in the world of oratorio, gave a song recital last night at Aeolian hall before an audience of excellent size. Mr. Dadmun is a singer of many fine qualities. He has authority, intelligence, style, and a voice which is resonant and of considerable richness of timbre. His singing was most admirable in its style."

When he was in Cleveland the Press said:

"Royal Dadmun won instant success. He possesses a voice resonant and capable of much versatility of expression. His diction was of exceptional clarity and refinement."

When he sang in New Orleans the Item said:

"His voice is rich and vibrant, and he uses it with artistic discrimination. His diction is excellent and his tone production to be warmly praised."

After his appearance in Portland, Ore., the Press said:

"Royal Dadmun has a beautiful voice. His interpretative powers are immensely satisfying, and his songs were given a distinguished delivery."

In Minneapolis the Tribune said:

"His voice is rich, true and splendidly handled and his personality adds to the favorable impression made by his excellent and artistic singing."

At Galveston the Press said:

"Royal Dadmun was given an ovation at the end of his numbers."

TRAFFIC TOWERS WIN

OTHER CITIES TO COPY NEW YORK'S NEW SYSTEM

(Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
 NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Other large cities are planning to follow New York's example in regulating traffic from police towers.

So successful have New York's five experimental towers proved that they are to be replaced with permanent structures, ornate in character.

Five towers are in operation on Fifth avenue, at Thirty-fourth, thirty-seventh, Forty-second, Fifth and Fifty-seventh streets.

They control traffic for a distance of two miles.

Dr. John A. Harris, special police commissioner, erected them at his own expense.

Each tower is 25 feet high. The policeman in the middle tower at Forty-second street is the keyman flashing the signals which are relayed by the other towers.

These signals are green, yellow and red lights.

Green—North and south traffic moves.

Yellow—East and west traffic moves.

Red—Stop! Signals change.

"Vehicle drivers and pedestrians are quickly educated to watch the towers," says Dr. Harris. "A few months' operation shows it absolutely the best plan of speeding up traffic and safeguarding lives."

WOMAN JUDGE PASSES

HEARING MARRIAGE ROWS

(International News Service.)

CLEVELAND, Jan. 28.—Judge Florence L. Allen, only woman judge of a superior jurisdiction in Ohio, threw upon the proposal to make her presiding judge of the court of domestic relations.

"I am not qualified for the task," she said. "Being single, I know none of the problems of married life, and I feel that I am utterly unfitted to determine questions involving the marriage tie. I believe no judge should pass upon such matters unless he or she is married."

HOTEL CONDITIONS HERE ARE EQUAL TO OTHER YEARS

Life about the big hotels of the Triple Cities is beginning to show its usual mid-winter activity. Because of the general decline in industrial conditions, the stringency in financial circles taken together with a mild and beautiful early winter season in the northern states, many people have predicted for Florida resort towns a dull tourist business for 1921. Business in the Triple Cities is always at its best in February, and also in March, when hundreds of tourists who have spent the mid-winter months in the more southern resorts, are driven by the extreme heat to one or the other of the three cities that offer a spring climate that nowhere can be excelled. March and April are two of the loveliest months here, and two of the most disagreeable in the North, when the winter drags slowly into a promised spring that does not come in all its beauty until late in May.

Manager C. J. Root of the Clarendon said recently:

"Hotel men in the Triple Cities, or in fact in any of the Florida resorts, have no reason for discouragement. The business of the Clarendon is right up to what it has been in the past years at this time. There have been no cancellations, although a few patrons have postponed their coming for a few days owing, as a rule, to the mild winter in the North.

"I have been in communication with the management of the leading hotels on the east coast and in every instance the report is that business is picking up in fine shape and that the prospect for a good year is very bright.

"Owing to the industrial and financial uncertainties at this time there may be a tendency among those patronizing the resort hotels to economize somewhat in the way of luxuries and needless expenses, but not in the manner of things necessary for their usual comforts."

Mr. Root who for many years has been with the Clarendon, is during the summer months engaged in the management of The Mount Washington hotel in the White Mountains.

What Florida is to the winter tourist New England and the Adirondacks are to the summer seeker after pleasure, and many of the people that Mr. Root entertains at the Clarendon during the winter he also entertains at the Mount Washington during the summer.

The Mount Washington is located in Bretton Woods, N. H., and few there are who have the means to gratify their desires who can resist the call of the mountains in summertime, with their inspiration and their recuperative balm. Bretton Woods is located 50 miles from the ocean and is surrounded by balsam forests.

Bretton Woods is an estate of over fifteen thousand acres in the heart of the White Mountains, and the Mount Washington hotel accommodates 600 guests with every convenience necessary to modern life. It is considerably larger than the Clarendon, and among its other attractions is the ball room, which is said by travelers to be one of the finest to be found in any resort hotel in America.

The "Cave Grill" is a wonderful attraction for tourists, not only those who are guests at the Mount Washington, but any who happen to be in Bretton Woods. From the ground floor corridor of the Mount Washington down through a narrow passage between rough, rocky walls is found on one side the "Cave Grill," an underground cavern where unique suppers are served until midnight. On the other side there is a veritable cave in the forest which is used for dancing. A colored orchestra from "Old Virginia" furnishes the music, and overhead is the soft golden moon and starlight of northern skies. Here the

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Rowe of Warsaw, N. Y., who are making a motor trip through the South, were guests at the Prince George while in Daytona this week.

G. W. Weller of Jacksonville was a business visitor in Daytona early in the week and was entertained at the Prince George.

Mrs. Katherine Skinner and Allen Z. Skinner, who are motoring through the South, spent a couple of days in Daytona during the week and were entertained at the Prince George.

John H. Palos of Elvira, Ohio, was a guest at the Prince George during the week.

Guests of the hotel and their friends may enjoy themselves in nature's great ball room to the music of the banjo, mandolin and guitar.

New arrivals at the Clarendon Wednesday evening reported weather conditions in the North as extremely cold and disagreeable, and that as far south as Asheville, N. C., there was a heavy fall of snow. The south bound trains were filled with tourists bound for the more southern resorts, where they will remain all after the "cold snap," when many of them will start on their homeward way and stop en route in the Triple Cities for a little of real Florida weather.

Among the recent guests at the Clarendon is J. F. Mahoney of Sumter, S. C., for luncheon on Wednesday. Mr. Mahoney has been spending several days in the Triple Cities and has visited the various hotels.

Walter K. Bigelow of Salem, Mass., was a luncheon guest at the Clarendon on Wednesday.

J. M. Chiles and George H. Hedder of Asheville, N. C., were guests at the Clarendon on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. George Carrie of St. Thomas, Ont., and Mrs. E. A. Smith, also of St. Thomas and King Boucher of London, Ont., are at the Clarendon to spend their first season there. They arrived Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles E. Wilson of Jacksonville motored to Seabreeze Thursday and are spending a few days at the Clarendon. They are old friends of the hotel and its management, and frequently come for a few days' stay there, where they have many friends among the guests.

Mrs. Douglas Alexander and daughter, Mrs. M. J. Kane and Mrs. H. Dangel, have arrived at the Hotel Clarendon to spend their first season.

Mrs. C. K. McFadden and son, Billie, are at the Clarendon for the season. They arrived Thursday.

Mrs. William Lay of Springfield, Mass., arrived at the Clarendon Thursday and will be there for the balance of the season.

The colored students of the S. Belle Anderson's School of Music will give a pre-lenten musicale on Wednesday night, February 2, at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium of Daytona Graded School, for the benefit of the colored boys' industrial department. No admission will be charged but an offering taken up and it is hoped that a hearty response will be accorded this most worthy cause. An interesting program is promised, and S. Belle Anderson, who has made a world's tour as a concert artist and bag singer before many notable persons, will be on the program. Articles made by the boys of the industrial department will be on exhibit and they will be glad to take orders for any work that they can do, charging a very nominal price for same.

School Board in Protest of Reckless Driving Near Here

At this week's meeting of the county school board Commissioner McClellan called to the attention of the board the dangers to which pupils being transported from Ormond, Port Orange and Clark's Still to Daytona are constantly being subjected by the reckless driving and excessive speed of motorists on these roads. He stated that school bus drivers complain to him that numerous cars pass the school buses, driving at a rate of speed from forty to sixty miles per hour, and that certain drivers have reached the point of being afraid to travel the public roads with their cars loaded with children.

The following resolution was adopted: Whereas, many children are being transported from Ormond and Port Orange and Clark's Still to the Daytona Public School, and whereas, H. T. McClellan, member of the board of public instruction from that district has reported to the board that the lives of these children are in constant danger because of the careless driving and excessive speed of motorists on the highways, and that drivers of these school buses are in constant dread that an accident will occur resulting in serious injury or death, be it resolved that the secretary be and is hereby directed to address a communication, on behalf of the board, to the board of county commissioners, calling their attention to the reckless and fast driving on these highways and imploring them to take some action to safeguard the lives of school children being transported over these roads and to insure their safety in this regard, attention being called to the fact that it will be too late for action after an accident has occurred with possible injury and death resulting.

Adopted January 26, 1921.

The bid of Stanley Gannell for the wiring and completely installing electric light fixtures, including all fixtures in the Ormond school for $242.75 was referred to Commissioner McClellan with instructions to look into the number and kind of fixtures included in the bid and if satisfactory to him to award the contract to Mr. Gannell.

DAYTONA MISSES FREEZE BY EIGHT DEG.; WARMER

The fears of farmers and truck farmers, as well as housewives who take pride in their plants and flowers fortunately were for naught last evening, when, after the coldest day of the present winter, the temperature rose last evening, with a change in the direction of the wind and the first real prospect for a freeze in this locality was passed.

With a minimum of 40 degrees registered at 6 o'clock Thursday morning, the thermometer held that figure the greater part of the day, showing a slight rise later in the day, in the evening warmer weather was evident and this morning it was the temperature recorded on the official thermometer of Geo. N. Chamberlin.

The weather man promises warmer weather for tonight with a light frost in the northern section of the state. His prediction reads: "Fair tonight and Saturday. Light frost in north and central portion tonight. Moderate northwest winds."

Thursday was a comparatively cold day throughout the north, as well as in many places in the south, temperatures being registered as follows:

Boston	42	26
Chicago	38	26
Kansas City	44	24
